

Construction of the Reclamation at LaPlata Mine

Greg Perkins, BHP Billiton La Plata Mine

Abstract: The presentation will cover how the reclamation surface is taken from an overall design to completed reclamation at the LaPlata Mine. Aspects covered will be the phases of earthmoving and control of these activities to create the regrade surface followed by topsoiling and rock features. Discussion will include how it is done as well as problem areas encountered in both the design and construction.